

Ferdinando Targetti (Moltrasio, 1945), he received a degree in Economics and Business Administration in July 1970 at Univeristà Bocconi di Milano. He taught in numerous Italian and foreign universities, among which New York University and University of Paris XIII and conducts an intense scientific and research activity. In July 2001 he was appointed Director of the University's School of International Studies. He was Member of Boards of Directors of banks (among which Credito Lombardo and Banca Agricola Mantovana) and of companies with public capital, as well as Member of the Lower House in the XIII Legislature. As at date of first appointment: 01/12/2006.